

St Nicholas Parish Church, Lanark.

Church Medical Evacuation Procedure

Responsibility to instigate this procedure is the Minister, Session Clerk or person in charge, as appropriate. Responsibility to telephone the emergency services will be delegated by the Minister, Session Clerk or person in charge, as appropriate.

Method:

Medically qualified people are normally in attendance at the church. The Minister, Session Clerk or person in charge should direct such people to the casualty. The church service should continue.

If the person is conscious, and thought appropriate, by the immediately available medically qualified people, the casualty may be evacuated to the vestry for further care.

If the person is unconscious, the casualty should be cared for, by the immediately available medically qualified people, pending arrival of ambulance service. A decision to continue the service should be considered.

The nearest publically available defibulator is outside Blacks the butchers in the middle of the High Street, south side.
